What is an opioid?

Opioids are a group of drugs that includes prescription pain medications, such as morphine, methadone, codeine, hydrocodone, hydromorphone, oxycodone, and buprenorphine. Vicodin®, Lortab®, Percocet®, OxyContin®, Dilaudid®, and Demerol® are common brand names of opioids. Heroin is also an opioid. Fentanyl is an opioid prescription medications that is often manufactured illegally and mixed with heroin or other street drugs, such as cocaine and methamphetamine.

Who is at risk of opioid overdose?

Anyone who uses high doses of opioid pain medication or uses opioids recreationally is at risk of overdose.

Other risk factors include:

- Using opioids in combination with other drugs such as antidepressants, benzodiazepines (Xanax® or Valium®) or alcohol. Like opioids, these drugs affect your ability to breathe.
- Using street drugs such as methamphetamine and cocaine; these drugs can be contaminated with fentanyl.
- Certain health conditions such as asthma, liver or kidney disease, heart disease, or HIV/AIDS
- Reduced tolerance caused by not having used opioids recently - for example, after release from jail or inpatient treatment.
- Having overdosed in the past.

What is Project DAWN?
Deaths Avoided With Naloxone

Project DAWN is a community-based drug overdose education and naloxone (also known as Narcan) distribution program. Naloxone is a medication that can be used to quickly reverse an overdose caused by an opioid drug.

Project DAWN educates people how to:

- Recognize the signs and symptoms of a drug overdose
- Call emergency medical services,
- Perform rescue breathing
- Administer naloxone nasally

Be prepared.
Save a life.

Project DAWN is named in memory of Leslie Dawn Cooper, who struggled with substance use for years before dying of a witnessed opioid overdose on October 3, 2009.

Responding to a Suspected Overdose

If a person is exhibiting signs of an opioid overdose, these following life-saving steps should be taken immediately:

Check to see if they can respond

- Shake them or call their name.
- Rub your knuckles hard in the middle of their chest

Call 911

- Give the address and location.
- If you don't want to mention drugs, say, "Someone has stopped breathing and is unresponsive."
- Ohio has a Good Samaritan law to legally protect those who respond to an overdose.

Give rescue breaths

- Place the person on their back, head tilted back and chin up.
- Make sure there is nothing in their mouth and pinch their nose closed.
- Breathe two slow breaths into their lungs, making sure the chest rises.

Give naloxone

- Follow the instructions for the type you have.
- If the person does not respond in two to five minutes, give another dose.
